d) Female directors in the Selection process

For the fourth time after signing the SWAN Pledge for parity and diversity, the Festival has methodically counted the female directors submitting their film for the Selection, as well as the female directors selected in the main competitions, with the results as below:

- 28% of the directors submitting a feature film to be part of the Solothurn Film Festival selection were women
- 37% of the directors submitting a short film to be part of the Solothurner Film Festival were women

(total number of directors include Female, Male, Other)

e) Selected female directors

- 33% of the 80 feature films selected are directed by female directors
 - 39% of the selected short films are directed by female directors
- (total number of directors include Female, Male, Other)

The Prix de Soleure is gathering 4 female directors and 4 male directors, with 7 films (there is one co-direction by a man and a woman), hence 50 % of women directors total.

The Opera Prima is gathering 3 female directors and 4 male directors, with 7 films, hence 43 % of women directors total.

The PRIX DU PUBLIC is gathering 3 female directors and 5 male directors, with 8 films, hence 38 % of women directors total.

Total: 58,75 female directors (26.5 for the feature films and 32.25 for the shorts film) and 101 male directors (52.5 feature directors and 48.5 short films directors).

The method of calculation considers the total number of films by gender. The data collection methodology is not yet finalized, the parties involved (Solothurn Film Festival and SWAN) are discussing which method of calculation would be more accurate for the next years. Co-directions are counted proportionally per film (film directed by one woman and one man = 2 x 0.5, two female co-directors = 1)
